Major Sponsors

Abstract Competition

All submitted abstracts will have to be presented as a poster at the Annual Meeting.

If the poster has already been presented at another occasion, the original format may be used unchanged at the SARB meeting.

The jury will be composed of the international faculty and the members of the scientific committee.

Two categories are proposed: clinical and experimental. The authors of the abstracts will indicate their choice for one of the two categories. If no choice is indicated, the chairman of the scientific committee will indicate the category. The best abstracts presented by a resident will be given the Resident Award, which enters the abstract automatically for the ESA Resident Award competition.

Each member of the jury will rank the abstracts. The abstract with the best overall ranking will win the competition. Abstracts will not be blinded.

Abstracts forms and detailed guidelines for abstract submission and poster presentation are to be collected from the SARB secretariat (see below) or www.sarb.be

All abstracts must be submitted to the SARB secretariat before Saturday, 15 September 2005.

2005 Best Paper Competition

Any scientific paper published by a member of the SARB between 15 October 2004 and 1 October 2005 may enter the competition for the best clinical or best experimental paper award. The board of the SARB will rank the submitted publications. All publications must be submitted to the SARB before Saturday, 15 September 2005.

Introduction

Dear colleague,

In our capacity of chairmen we are delighted to welcome you to this 2005 Annual Meeting of the Society for Anesthesia and Resuscitation of Belgium.

Based on the success of the last years, the Society for Anesthesia wants to offer you a programme on an important scientific and clinical issue, combined with the promotion of the Belgian clinical and scientific research. In this context the SARB prize for the best posters and publications of the last year, the Annual SARB Research Grants competition and several awards, sponsored by the industry, will be granted at the end of the morning session.

The topic of this year is TRAUMA. The symposium aims to provide the opinion leaders' prospective on key issues in trauma management. Traumas are never planned. They just occur. Trauma management must be discussed and organised in advance, and mostly fitted in an elective OR programme. Last year, nearby the whole anesthetic community has been involved in the Ghislenghien disaster. Although, anesthesia and trauma management includes mass casualty, we have to handle road accidents and trauma at home or at work more frequently. The topic of Trauma is of importance for all anesthesiologists working as well in the emergency department as in the operating theatre or ICU.

We hereby thank all the members of the scientific and organising committee for their contribution in preparing the Annual SARB Meeting 2005.

And for you, dear colleague, we hope you will enjoy this meeting as much as we enjoyed preparing it for you.

Luc Herregods
President of the Organising Committee

Gary Hartstein
President of the Scientific Committee
